

Data Source state diagram

startRead and dataAvail are call and return for this data source requesting more input.

start() and callback() are call and return for the client requesting more data.

readdone() is the client call to signal it has consumed data.

